

Hello,

The Democratic Congressional Campaign Committee is still looking for spring semester interns.

Internships at the Democratic Congressional Campaign Committee are designed to give students substantial exposure to practical, campaign-style politics on a national level. DCCC internships are unpaid, volunteer positions. Internships are available in the following divisions for spring semester:

Member Services

Candidate Services

Qualifications:

Interns at the DCCC must be able to work independently as well as respond to direction. Most importantly, interns must finish assigned work quickly, thoroughly, and accurately. Other qualifications include:

- Commitment to the goals of the Democratic Party and the DCCC
- Good analytical and communications skills
- Working knowledge of the legislative and electoral process, especially in regards to the House of Representatives
- Familiarity with Microsoft Office and other applicable computer programs

What does an internship at the DCCC give you?

- The DCCC will assist the intern in obtaining academic credit.
- The DCCC provides a transportation stipend for the metro.
- Interns will have exposure to important and well-connected people in the Democratic Party. Interns will probably meet Members of Congress and many of the staff members.

- You will also be able to get a hands-on, insider view of some of the strategies, policies, and procedures followed in national campaign politics.

Application Deadlines:

Spring applications are being reviewed on a rolling basis.

To Apply:

Send the following items to our intern coordinator:

- A completed Internship Application
- Cover Letter describing your interest in politics and the DCCC
- Resume
- An unofficial transcript
- One letter of recommendation
- Three Professional References (Name, Title, Business, Phone Number, and Email Address)

Please make sure that all materials are included. Please include your letter of reference in the packet. Incomplete applications will not be reviewed!
