

Senator Chuck Hagel (Nebraska), who serves on the Senate Foreign Relations, Intelligence, and Banking Committees, is looking for motivated individuals to work as interns in his Washington, D.C. office. Ideal candidates will be extremely professional, responsible and enjoy working in a fast paced environment. Interns will assist with a variety of daily tasks of a busy Senate office, including conducting tours, answering phones, processing constituent mail, attending hearings, and other duties as required. Interested individuals should visit the Senator's website at <http://hagel.senate.gov/public/index.cfm?FuseAction=Services.Interns> or may contact Cory Colhouer in our Washington, D.C. office at 202-224-4224 or internships@hagel.senate.gov. Positions are available immediately, as well as for the Summer and Fall terms.
